WHO ARE WE?

We, as St. Paul's, are a theologically diverse community who seeks to embrace our diversity in order to live through the Gospel of Jesus Christ and be a place of belonging for all people.

From the Pile on Fr. Kirk's Desk...

It is said it is better to give than receive....

I once fully subscribed to this notion, but not so much anymore.

I don't like to ask for help...I never have. I don't know when it became such a part of me, but the notion of asking for help felt shameful. I felt like if I could not do "it" by myself, then I was less of a person, less of a success, not worthy.

Without knowing it, I had placed judgment on the concept of "receiving"; on the concept of needing help. I did my best not to place judgment on those who needed help to survive, be it food, or shelter, or whatever. But it is clear that since I placed judgment on myself when I needed help, I can't have it both ways. I can't judge myself and not judge others.

Brene' Brown, in her book, The Gifts of Imperfection, wrote this: "Until we receive with an open heart, we are never really giving with an open heart. When we attach judgment to receiving help, we knowing or unknowingly attach judgment to giving help."

If all we do is give and are unable to accept help or gifts from others, then we are not living in relationship the way the Gospel tells us. We are to give with open hearts...loving, not judging. We are to receive with open hearts...loving, not judging. When we have gifts to share, we give them. When others have gifts we need, we accept them. We give them as One Body in Christ and we accept them as One Body in Christ.

Practice giving and receiving and you will soon know what it means to be touched by the Grace of God.

Peace,

Happy Summer!

A small group of us have begun meeting to make sure we are prepared for Fr. Kirk's sabbatical. Fr. Kirk will be away from the parish for 3 months to study, refresh and reflect. It gives him an opportunity to rest as well. We tend to forget that a parish priest is basically on call every day, all day, all year long. During his sabbatical, Fr. Kirk will not be available. We need to give him this time away from being available all day, every day. Others will be providing this support to the parish. Watch for ways that you can help.

Summer means POTLUCKS! We will have a potluck on June 29th and August 24th. On July 27th during Bishop Dan's official visit with us, we will have the Bibby Barbecue! Mark your calendars and plan to join your parish family for good food!

Many, many thanks to everyone who participated in the Kitchen Shower. I hope you have noticed some of the new items that we have put into use already.

Peace,

Margaret Bouzek

Report on Eddy House

I was able to make arrangements with Lynette Eddy to deliver the Easter Offering check and have lunch at her restaurant, Z-Pie. She was thrilled to get the money and asked that I thank everyone at St. Paul's for this wonderful donation.

Can't resist putting in a good word for the restaurant, as all profits from Z-Pie go back to Eddy House. If you have the opportunity, stop by and try one of their wonderful pot pies or sandwiches. They're located in the West Street Plaza at 138 West Street.

As the school year comes to an end, I would like to thank our team of dedicated Sunday School teachers for a great year.

A huge thank-you to Erin

Anderson, Chelsea Sawyer, Nancy Lightfoot, Sheri McLaughlin, Ellen Houston, and Heather Burkhardt. Thank you, too, to James Stufflebeam, Bob and Julia Stoddard, and Sarah and Hayley Lightfoot who have helped the children to learn songs, both contemporary and traditional. AND thanks to Eileen Caspersen for teaching our kids the fun of painting their own bowls, including bowls to donate to our "Empty Bowls" fall fundraiser. Thank you to Barbara Monroy for giving the children a tour of

The Community Food Pantry, including a lesson of the work that is done there to help provide food for many hungry families in our area. St. Paul's Prayers & Squares

The "Prayers and Squares" ministry is a special "outreach" tool to share the love of Christ. The quilts bring a tangible example of the love we all share with those who are suffering in body, mind or spirit. You do not have to know how to sew, or like to sew, but can also just join us for the fellowship we all share.

We meet on the second Saturday of each month in the Parish Hall from 9 A.M. to noon.

We gladly receive donations of materials, thread, etc. and cash to purchase necessary supplies.

If you would like to join us, or if you would like to request a quilt for someone, please contact Victoria Sidener 322-2375.

Got Shoes?

Deacon Mike is collecting new and gently used men's shoes to donate to the Restitution Center. The Restitution Center helps inmates transition from being incarcerated into finding jobs upon release. There is a barrel in the narthex for you to put the shoes. Thank you.

The Daughters of the King

Are you not quite sure who The Daughters of the King are and what it is they do? Contact Margaret Bouzek at or by phone at (775) 424-3767.

School Supply Drive

The Daughters of the King are also sponsoring a School Supply Drive over the summer. We have 2 low socio-economic schools in our neighborhood that really need our help. Over the last several years St. Paul's has made a significant impact in helping these children with the basics. We are hoping to continue what has become a tradition of helping our neighborhood children by "leveling the playing field" when it comes to education supplies.

Beginning June 1st through July 27th there will be bins in the Narthex for you to drop your donations into. If you have any questions, please let me know. If you are not sure what to buy, your monetary donation toward what is needed is also much appreciated. We can usually get a small discount on supplies through Office Depot. Thanks to you all in advance.

St. Paul's Columbarium

Saint Paul's Columbaria has been in place since 1980. The units you see along the south church wall represents one half of the special use permit we were granted from the City of Sparks. Most of these niches have now been sold and we are pleased to announce we are in the process of purchasing the balance of the niches to complete the program started in 1980.

Because the cost of bronze has become so expensive we have elected to finish out the columbaria with solid granite units. This will allow us to continue being competitive relative to the cost of niches in this area.

They will be located on the concrete pads in the southeast corner of the Memorial Garden. Each pad will have one double wide unit containing 96 niches. The frame is in a color that closely matches the color of the granite used in the Baby Memorial (located on the Parish Hall wall) with granite faceplates in pure black. The unit will take up a little over 1/3rd of the pad and there will be a granite bench placed adjacent to the Columbarium unit in the same color as the frame. In addition, a small planter will be located at the other end of each pad done in stonework similar to the stonework you see on the Lych Gate. We believe this will blend well and enhance the completion of the landscaping in the garden without intruding on the “multi-use” concept of the gardens function.

Installation is currently estimated to be sometime during the month of August.

These new niches, as well as the few remaining along the wall are selling to our parishioners for $1200.00 each which includes the faceplate. If you have been thinking about this in your “Life Event” planning and would like further information, drop by the church office and pick up an information packet at your convenience, or feel free to call Gene Carse at 775-233-8254.

THE LAS VEGAS POLICE AMBUSH, CHURCH, AND BELONGING

A husband and wife walk into a pizza place and gun down two Las Vegas police officers eating lunch, flee to a Wal-Mart and shoot an armed bystander. The wife then kills her husband, and ends the episode with her own suicide.

An echo of the shooting at Seattle Pacific University last week; and of the deadlier shooting at UC Santa Barbara three weeks ago; and all the mass shootings – Tucson, Sandy Hook Elementary, the one-room Amish school, the Sikh Temple, Columbine. All just random nuts with weapons? Or are they canaries in our cultural coal mine of alienation, disempowerment, and desperation?

Does this have anything to do with the armed standoff of the militias and the BLM over grazing leases? What about the inability of our elected representatives to negotiate compromise solutions for the various issues of our day? Might it all connect somehow to the decline of participation in any sort of voluntary associations for common goals? And is that related to the decline of marriage and our inability to keep the marriages we've got together?

In the aftermath of gun violence, we reflexively say we need better regulation of firearms and we need more mental health services. Yes, obviously true. I am 100% for both those technical responses. But whenever we say those things in the aftermath of gun violence, people rush out to the gun stores to beef up their firepower, the daily attrition through gun violence continues, and a short while later (these days a very short while later), we have another mass shooting. The problem is deeper and wider than loose gun laws and the shortage of affordable therapists.

For whatever reasons – let competent sociologists explain them – people are becoming more and more disconnected. The loneliness and despair overwhelms us. We are alienated and in our alienation, we are disempowered, unable to influence our environment because the channels of influence – relationships – are broken. We lose the ability to shake hands, look each other in the eye, and have an honest conversation. In the absence of such organic connection, the economic machine chews us up. In despair, we drink, gamble, distract ourselves with work and electronic games, and some of us become angry – angry enough to kill, to kill someone, anyone – it doesn't matter who we kill because we aren't really connected to anyone. We don't have the capacity to connect with anyone. We have lost the capacity to imagine how the world looks through another person's eyes, and no one can imagine what it is like to be us. We live and die unknown. In a crowded room, perhaps in a casino sitting at a gaming machine, we are in solitary confinement. The only connection we know how to make with another human being is to shoot them.

My question is: where do faith and the community of faith come into this? Some of our congregations are open and welcoming, embracing people who come their way, offering them caring presence, attention, appreciation, and a chance to participate in activities ranging from the fun to the noble. I hear stories from people who were lost, alienated, and discouraged until they connected with a congregation, and little by little, they came back to hope.

I heard a story from one woman whose family life had been hard, so she had resolved not to have children. But when she saw how people loved and nurtured the children in our church, she changed her mind. Her children with her that day in church were born because of the grace she experienced in our community. I have heard stories of people who came to us from broken relationships and found comfort, hope, and healing. I have heard from people who had lived on the streets but were able to get back on their feet not just through material support we offered but also through encounter with people who understood that to believe in God we have to also believe in each other. We believed in those people and our faith in them gave them courage.

Not all of us get this. Some of us want to keep the church just for ourselves. Others want to grow the church to add to our institutional strength, so we can feel successful. Both approaches utterly and completely miss the mark of our mission. It is to give and receive mercy. It is to reconcile people to the human race. It is to give up the futility of acquisition and self-advancement for the better life of extending caring presence to other people and eliciting their caring presence in return. We might call it belonging. We celebrate it ritually as Communion.

When the loneliness in the world is so great, the call is to open our doors wider, make our porch light burn brighter. We have no time for crankiness or pettiness. There is a world to be healed.

SOUTHWESTERN PILGRIMAGE

Friday, June 27th from 7:00pm to 9:00pm.

Southwestern Pilgrimage will be playing in our Garden on Friday, June 27th from 7:00pm to 9:00pm.

Tickets are $15.00 and there will be desserts and drinks.

Children under 18 are free.

If you would like more information or wish to buy tickets, please see Heather Burkhardt cell number 775-544-7329. We look forward to seeing you there.

Born out of years of friendship in the Dallas-based band, “Young Country”, old friends come together again, as SOUTHWESTERN PILGRIMAGE. The group takes its original material and combines it with songs from some of the best songwriters in the Southwest, embellishing them with tight vocal harmonies and unique instrumental interpretations. With songs about wide open spaces, rivers, romance and legends of the West They represent all that is good in American music.

RICK SPARKS, who now lives in Virginia City, NV, has been in the music business for over 40 years. In addition to his smooth vocals, he is equally at home playing banjo, guitar, mandolin, dobro and pedal steel guitar. He has developed a reputation as an outstanding teacher on all of his instruments and has over 30 students under his wing.

KAREN ROEMMICH, upon inheriting a guitar and musical inspirations from her sister, taught herself to play her real passion, the stand up bass. Her excellent ear for music helps to create the band’s smooth, close harmony blend as well as providing a solid rhythm for the band. She also calls Virginia City home.

ROD PHILLIPS, multi-instrumentalist, accomplished pianist, vocalist and songwriter, after his years with “Young Country”, toured with the likes of Michael Martin Murphey and Jim Stafford, before settling in Branson, Missouri, where he performs his own show nightly.

RANDY BROOKS ... Well what can you say about Randy, writer of “Grandma Got Run Over By a Reindeer” ? Only that, after all these years, he continues to write and perform his zany brand of original songs and continues to delight his audience as he delivers the unexpected. This Dallas-based songwriter was voted SESAC songwriter of the year, for “Grandma...
